A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says: I have used Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good of them. I know of many performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A farmer near Buchanan, Ga., has, it is reported, a true rattlesnake, that has the freedom of the premises, and beats forty yard dogs keeping off intruders.

A joint commission consisting of United States and Canadian representatives have been appointed to investigate the habits of mackerel in the mouth of the St. Lawrence. There is a crying necessity for a searching investigation of the habits and origin of the mackerel found in the West.

The campaign is pointed toward New York with all steam on, and a determination in the captain's mind to make her beat the westward trans-Atlantic record or a shaft. As she made her first 140 miles in six and one-half hours, her captain's ambition is in a fair way to be gratified.

The nineteenth century will not end till midnight Monday, Dec. 31, 1900, although the old quarrel will probably again be renewed. As to what constitutes a century when it winds up, and thousands will insist on a premature burial of the old century at midnight on Dec. 31, 1899.

Aug. 9 will be the 300th anniversary of the birth of Isak Walton, and there is a desire among Englishmen to commemorate it by a memorial. The gentleman should have a monument erected to him wherever the small boy may be found who built his plowhook and tries to poison himself of the tiny inhabitants of the dew.

The ocean contains several fish which clothe or adorn themselves, the most conspicuous of them being the mackerel, a small fish resembling the Saragossa sea, which literally clothes itself with sea weed, fastening the pieces together with sticky, gelatinous strings and then holding the garment on with its fins.

When the queen dies her mortal remains will rest in the gray granite sarcophagus with the late lamented Prince Alfred's ashes. The sarcophagus, the queen and Prince Alfred, and the monument is inscribed: "Farewell, my beloved, here, at last I will rest with thee. With thee I Christ I will rise again."

Ladladins Julius saw at McMillin, in Brabant, a cherry stone carved in the form of a basket, in which were four teen pairs of dice, the spots on the latter being visible to the naked eye. A cherry stone carved by the Italian sculptor, Rossi, and containing a figure of sixtyns, was shown at Florence for many years.

The plan of horsewhipping a man who does not pay his debts is undoubtedly a good one, but it may be carried a bit too far. It is only the female imagination which carries things to the point of horsewhipping a man, usually in favor of peace and is not to be found among the creditor class there is no great fear of the practice becoming widespread.

A surprising number of new rats are sent of the cheaper sort are pointed white. Probably their proprietors are following a fashion set by a New Yorker, whose bill of fare consisted largely of milk, who intended to imply as much of the cream-colored front of his place. The so-called dairy restaurants, which are few houses that are scattered about the land and that are painted white are numbered by hundreds.

Ocean steamers must reduce their speed or there will be little benefit in a sea voyage. When it becomes possible as it will in a few years to go to Europe without being out of sight of land for more than four days there will be a little balm for wracked nerves or enfeebled lungs in the trip. It will soon be necessary to prescribe a journey to Australia or Japan for persons in need of sea air.

The study of the hair upon human species offers an extensive field for inquiry, and one which presents many unsolved problems of the first order of importance. Why man, as a species, should present the kind and the amount of the hair which he does is variously explained, and the differences between the varieties of the human race are so great that it is not surprising that the most popular subdivision of the species is founded upon it. That the human family have the longest hair of any species of animal is a well known fact, but why they lost it over most of the body is a subject for much curious conjecture and speculation.

Theoretical people know that oil cleans the skin better than water. Generally, other people do not. If actresses would try to get their make-up off with water they would find that soap and a scrub brush to do it. The once cocoa butter; now they use cocoa oil, which is a better preparation of the same thing. Drug stores keep it. Some keep it fresh and some keep it rancid. Take care not to patronize the second-class, and in cocoa oil the second-class is the worst. The most elegant of the oil is the one that is made from the seed of the olive tree. It is the best for the face and the body. It is the best for the face and the body. It is the best for the face and the body.

As the result of my tests, I find the ROYAL BAKING POWDER superior to all the others in every respect. It is entirely free from all adulteration and unwholesome impurity, and in baking it gives off a greater volume of leavening gas than any other powder. It is therefore not only the purest, but also the strongest powder with which I am acquainted.

A Sudden Bereavement.

For the past week Mr. H. Bartle and family, of this city, have been anxiously awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Bartle's sister, whom they expected to meet on last evening's passenger train. Yesterday afternoon, however, they received a telegram announcing the death of the lady at her old home in Hancock, Mich. Mr. Bartle and family have not seen her for nearly 14 years. She was coming from eastern Canada and had gotten as far as Hancock when she was taken sick and died. Mr. and Mrs. Bartle with their two daughters, Lilly and Edith, left for Michigan this morning. This makes the third time Mrs. Bartle has gone to Michigan within a year on a similar errand.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McGinn desire the DISPATCH to extend their heartfelt thanks to kind neighbors during the illness and death of their infant daughter, and especially to Mrs. John Hurley and Mrs. Sumner.

Mental Emotion and Jaundice.

The connection of simple jaundice with sudden mental emotion is generally admitted. Such facts as the following are not uncommon: A young woman becomes yellow at the discovery of her misdeeds; another on hearing that her fiancé was killed; a young man on being discharged from office because he had not grown tall enough.

Simple jaundice is often followed by acute yellow atrophy, which is also known to be directly caused by shock. In this form of jaundice there is always disorganization of the liver cells. Even cancer may have a like origin.

At Chicago Royal Leads All.

As the result of my tests, I find the ROYAL BAKING POWDER superior to all the others in every respect. It is entirely free from all adulteration and unwholesome impurity, and in baking it gives off a greater volume of leavening gas than any other powder. It is therefore not only the purest, but also the strongest powder with which I am acquainted.

All other baking powders are shown by analysis to contain alum, lime or ammonia.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McGinn desire the DISPATCH to extend their heartfelt thanks to kind neighbors during the illness and death of their infant daughter, and especially to Mrs. John Hurley and Mrs. Sumner.

Mental Emotion and Jaundice.

The connection of simple jaundice with sudden mental emotion is generally admitted. Such facts as the following are not uncommon: A young woman becomes yellow at the discovery of her misdeeds; another on hearing that her fiancé was killed; a young man on being discharged from office because he had not grown tall enough.

Simple jaundice is often followed by acute yellow atrophy, which is also known to be directly caused by shock. In this form of jaundice there is always disorganization of the liver cells. Even cancer may have a like origin.
